

Make Your Own Protest Sign

During the 1960s, people marched together to protest and declare that all people are equal. The marchers made and carried signs to deliver their messages.

You can make your own protest sign to deliver a message about a change you want to make. It could be something you want to change at home, at school, or in the world.

