

Count Me In

For Students in Grades 6–8

You've always wanted to sing in a chorus—now's your chance!

Join us for a four-week series of choral workshops in September and October 2012.

- Sessions take place in your neighborhood.
- Learn how to sing in a chorus and prepare for an audition.
- Eighth graders prepare to audition for performing arts high schools.
- All students can audition for the citywide Salute to Music program culminating with a concert at Carnegie Hall.
- Connect with choral directors at local high schools and community choirs.
- Earn a Count Me In certification for your resume.

Students who participated in Count Me In last year were accepted to Brooklyn High School for the Arts, Brooklyn School for Music and Theatre, Celia Cruz High School of Music, Fordham High School for the Arts, and Songs of Solomon.

Turn over for workshop details.

Please detach and return this portion to your school to register for this fall!
